low-cost services," he argued. "In India, we have the advantage of being confident, having IT in our bagpipes. We created a vibrant group of people who are not afraid of making decisions that once took days now happen in seconds. Today, with talent and innovation, the same problems can be solved in the blink of an eye," he explained. "We need to be able to think a little faster—the race will not end until the judges and we are not even racing yet."

He will soon have to think about how to make these capabilities fit strategy, from transactional services to value creation. "These of course are dynamic tools," he declared. "Not just exponentially, but now being reinvented, changed and delivered differently."

SEIZING INDIA'S GCC MOMENT

As Global Capability Centres boom, India's chartered accountants are stepping up as strategists, integrators, and global leaders

NDIA is no longer content to play the world's back office. That was the unmistakable message resonating through the packed halls of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India's (ICAI) inaugural Global Capacity Centres (GCC) Summit, held over two energised days in New Delhi on June 18 and 19, 2017. For more than 600 professionals in attendance, from students to seasoned executives, the summit was a welcome to young professionals, the event was both a celebration of India's remarkable services journey and a clarion call to imagine a bigger, bolder future.

At stake is no less than India's aspiration to emerge as the "office of the world," a vision powered by the growing prowess of its software and IT services sectors. And everything from financial reporting and tax advisory to ESG and artificial intelligence for the world's biggest companies. Today, India is home to more than 1,700 GCCs employing over 1.6 million professionals and generating an estimated $46 billion in annual revenue, a figure projected to cross $100 billion by 2030.

what it means to be a chartered accountant. As Charanjit Singh Nanda, President, ICAI, put it in his stirring address: "Chartered accountants of India can be a catalyst to position India as a developed nation. Today, with over 80,000 professionals in Global Capability Centres, our CAs are shaping global strategy, governance and entrepreneurship."

India's GCC Opportunity
Global Capability Centres began as cost-saving back offices but have transformed into engines of strategic value. As companies confront complex regulations, tax frameworks, and ESG pressures, they increasingly rely on India's talent pools. "Chartered accountants are no longer book-keepers; they are decision-makers, business strategists, and growth enablers," said Sanjib Sanghi, Convenor

जीनीसीसीखर सम्मेलन आईसीएआई कराएगा

नई दिल्ली, प्रमुख संवाददाता। भारतीय चावल अकाउंटेड संस्थान (आईसीएआई) ने भारत का वैश्विक लेखा-जीखा एवं वित्तीय सेवाओं का अग्र केंद्र बनाने की दिशा में एक महत्वपूर्ण कदम उठाते हुए ग्लोबल कैपिटलिविटी सेंटर या जीसीसी (जीनीसीसी) शिखर सम्मेलन कराने की घोषणा की है।

इस मुंबई का पहला सम्मेलन 27-28 जून 2017 को राजधानी दिल्ली में आयोजित किया जाएगा, जिस बाद इसके क्षेत्रीय संस्करण अहमदाबाद (गिफ्ट सिटी) में मुंबई और हैदराबाद में होंगे। एक प्रेसवार्ता में आईसीएआई के अध्यक्ष सीए चरणजोत सिंह नंदा ने कहा कि भारतीय वित्तीयक सामर्थ्य केंद्रों के अगले चरण का नेतृत्व करने की सज्जत स्थिति में है।

CA. Mahaveer Singhvi, Joint Secretary, Ministry of External Affairs, Govt. of India

“GCCs represent a transformative shift in India’s service economy, emerging as the country’s next major export, offering strategic capabilities in areas like risk management, digital tax advisory and ESG reporting. At the heart of this movement are Chartered Accountants, who are not just supporting global companies but increasingly shaping their strategies. With over 1,800 GCCs already operating in India, this sector is poised to cross USD 100 billion in value by 2030.”

CA. Charanjot Singh Nanda, President, ICAI

“Chartered Accountants of India can be a catalyst to position India as a developed nation. Today, with over 80,000 professionals in Global Capability Centres (GCCs), our CAs are shaping global strategy, governance and entrepreneurship. Following this summit, we are empowering our international chapters to take this vision forward. Let us remember, what one can conceive, one can achieve. With discipline, perspective and pride, Indian CAs are not just participating in change, they are leading it.”

CA. Prasanna Kumar D, Vice President, ICAI

“We are empowering our professionals by nurturing a pool of globally competitive Chartered Accountants and preparing future-ready talent. By 2030, India is expected to establish 2,000 additional Global Capability Centres, creating employment opportunities for over 2.5 million professionals, including Chartered Accountants. With dynamic curriculum reforms and a focus on trust, technology, and talent, ICAI is committed to positioning India as the global destination of choice for capability-driven growth.”

Shri Sanjeev Sanyal, Member of the Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister

“India is no longer playing a supporting role; it is ready to lead. With cutting-edge GCCs, bold policy reforms, and world-class talent, the country is poised to build globally admired firms rooted in India. This is the moment to create the Big Indian Firms for tomorrow having global impact. By breaking silos, embracing collaboration, and thinking big, India can unlock its full potential. The world isn't just watching. It is waiting for India to rise.”

CA. Sanjib Sanghi, Convenor, Group to Promote India as Accounting GCC

“Chartered Accountants are no longer a book keepers—they are decision-makers, business strategists, and growth enablers. The GCC movement is about mindset, transformation, and collaboration. Let's lead from the front and make India the global hub for accounting excellence.”

CA. Abhay Chhajed, Deputy Convenor, Group to Promote India as Accounting GCC

“Global Capability Centers (GCCs) in India are undergoing a remarkable shift—from serving as traditional support units to becoming strategic centers of excellence. This transformation is being powered by a strong emphasis on ownership, agility, and value creation within India's highly skilled talent ecosystem.”

CA.(Dr.) Sanjeev Singhal, Central Council Member and Programme Director, Group to Promote India as Accounting GCC:

“India has firmly established itself as the global capital for GCCs, with over 1,580 centers currently generating $46 billion in annual revenue. Our ambition is clear—we aim to more than double this figure and surpass $100 billion within the next five years.”
